About the Festival

The Penn-Mar Irish Festival is held annually on the third Saturday in June, near the Pennsylvania-Maryland border, and features traditional and contemporary Irish music and dance from Pennsylvania and Maryland performers, plus some special guests from farther away.

The festival is organized by a small group of volunteers who established a non-profit entity with the mission of celebrating Celtic heritage in the area. We happily donate festival tickets to a variety of Celtic organizations throughout the region, as well as local non-profit organizations, for their fundraising purposes.

We welcome additional committee members, volunteers, and sponsors for the 22nd Annual Penn-Mar Irish Festival.

Festival Surveys

We want your feedback!

We'd like to know how you heard about the festival, to help us determine our most successful advertising methods, and to gather suggestions and feedback.

We would also like to know if you stayed in a hotel this weekend (and if so, how many room nights in your party). Please complete our brief paper survey and place it in the gold drum located near the entrance. If we can read your email address, you might win tickets to next year's festival.

If you'd like to be involved with planning or co-sponsoring next year's festival,
